Care of Sweden launches The Mattress Guide – supporting care decisions

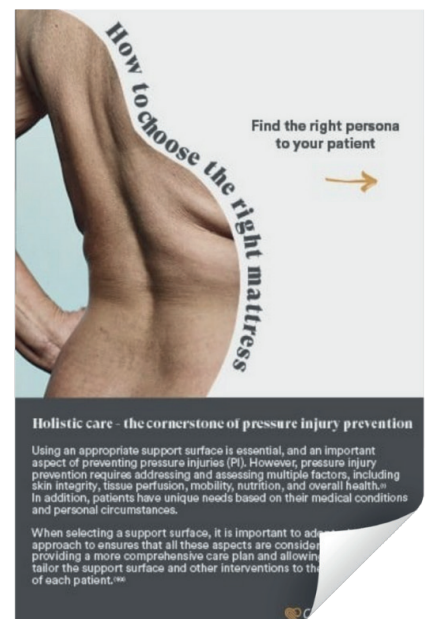

Care of Sweden continues its commitment to improving patient care and supporting healthcare professionals with innovative tools. The latest addition, The Mattress Guide is a long-requested resource designed to provide structure and clarity in the decision-making process when selecting mattresses that help prevent pressure injuries.

Developed in close collaboration with healthcare professionals, The Mattress Guide responds to a long-standing demand for a simple and accessible tool that supports everyday decision-making. It offers an overview of different mattress types and practical guidance on how to match products with patient mobility and care needs – always with the understanding that each patient requires an individual assessment.

Pressure injuries remain a major challenge for healthcare systems worldwide. They cause unnecessary suffering for patients and require significant resources to treat once they occur. By supporting correct mattress selection, The Mattress Guide aims to make prevention easier and more effective helping to reduce both patient discomfort and the strain on healthcare resources.

“Our goal is to make it easier for healthcare professionals to deliver safe, high-quality care. The Mattress Guide has been requested for a long time, and we’re proud to finally share it as part of our ongoing work to support those who make important care decisions every day.” says Inga Borgvall, Marketing Manager at Care of Sweden.

By continuously developing knowledge-based tools and solutions, Care of Sweden aims to contribute to safer, more efficient, and more sustainable care, for both patients and professionals.
